EORNA supporting the one together program

OneTogether: The Power of Small Actions, is a multi-year program with the goal of driving individual small actions to collectively generate a significant impact on the incidence of healthcare-associated infections (HAIs). The goal is to engage a broad spectrum of partners and individuals who care passionately about this issue and have a willingness to approach this problem in a new way. It is designed to create an open dialogue on HAI prevention that elevates the infection prevention and control conversation across all areas of a hospital, no matter their specialties or disciplines.

EORNA ACE - EORNA Accreditation Council for Education

The aim of the EORNA ACE is the harmonization and improvement of the quality of nursing surgical care in Europe. In the field of continuing education and professional development, the EORNA ACE will serve this aim by improving quality of and accessibility to continuing nursing education and professional development for the nursing and healthcare professionals in Europe. The practical instrument to improve the quality of continuing education and professional development in Europe will be the facilitation of transfer of credits obtained by individual professionals in educational activities that meet common quality requirements:

- between European countries
- between different professionals
- in case of migration of a nursing and healthcare professional within Europe between the European credit system and comparable systems outside Europe.

EORNA CONGRESS OVER THE YEARS

The article "EORNA history" by past president Margaret Brett, the EORNA congress guideline and my memory are the inspiring to the content of this small article

From 1980 there was a small, but very pertinacious group of OR nurses in Europe. They were working hard to make a European association of operating room nurses. From 1982 was the first seedling of a European conference as speakers from Denmark, Norway, Holland and Germany presented papers at a European day, which preceded the main National Conference in the UK. The event proved a great success. This continued the following years.

In April 1992 in Copenhagen the more formal European Operating Room Nurses Association (EORNA) was born and in 1997 the first EORNAC conference took place

EORNA has now 28 member associations from 27 different countries.

An EORNA member country can apply for hosting a congress. The EORNA board will choose between the nominated.

Before each congress EORNA board will set up an organizing committee and a scientific committee. These committees are working closely together with the host association and the local PCO on behalf of all the EORNA member associations to organize the EORNA congress according to the congress structure and guidelines

Members of the Organizing Committee (OC) are proposed by the host country and approved by the EORNA Board of Directors. The Scientific Committee (SC) members are chosen from the EORNA Board of Directors.

The EORNA congress is a very important event for the OR nurses. The congress is the opportunity to gain new knowledge to get inspired and to create networks

The official language of the congress is English. EORNAC Congress is non-profit organization, which arranges congresses on behalf of EORNA.

The Hungarian Theatre Nurse and the Association of Hungarian Theatre Nurses

Katalin Balasi, Emese Bérczi, EORNA Educ. Comm. MMT Hungary

The Hungarian theatre nurse is well trained, she acquired both theoretical knowledge and practical skills during her education. She is open minded, able to improve her skills. Our theatre nurses are enthusiastic, they are considering this profession beautiful and highly human.

The theatre nurse training has been included in the Hungarian education system for 65 years.

Theatre nurse (1949)

Theatre specialized nurse (1976)

Health care specialized nurse (1995)

Theatre specialized nurse (2010-)

In 1993 took place the restructuring of the nursing education model in Hungary in order to comply with European Union directives and Council of Europe recommendations concerning nursing education and training. Advanced vocational programmes were introduced in 1998. The programmes can only be run by colleges, universities or the Directorate General of Basic and Continuing Education of Health Workers (GYEMSZI ETI), whose tasks are:

- a) performs organisational, methodological and pedagogical tasks connected to vocational training and examination,
- b) performs adult education activity, organises healthcare vocational training outside the school system along with examinations, organises and conducts continuing education.

In Hungary there is a National Register of Vocational Qualifications (NRVQ/OKJ), which seems to be an important tool aiding transparency.

In this feasibility study we aim to get a clearer perspective on its function, who are involved in setting up and maintaining this NRVQ/OKJ, what it means for a qualification to be registered, etc.

The duration of a vocational training is four or five terms.

Applicants for these programmes must hold a secondary school leaving certificate, and may also have to meet specific professional, medical, etc., requirements according to the qualification they intend to pursue.

The teaching program is delivered in 3-year full-time course consisting of 4.600 teaching hours. The certificate awarded is certificate in nursing. Specialisation is built upon this level, nurses may acquire specialisation in part-time courses in order to become theatre specialized nurse.

The curricula of the programmes are developed by higher education institutions in accordance with the 'central programme' (curriculum) of the particular OKJ qualification, both issued by the minister for the relevant sector.

Curricula are modular, and consist of the following components: basic education/development of competences, mandatory vocational and optional (specialisation) modules.

The training has a duration of 1,5 year (1200 study hours). The rate is 40% theoretical and 60% practical study time. It is anticipated 1 year practice in an operating department.

The course contains general knowledges about instruments, handling of instruments, principles and importance of aseptics, tasks before the operation, during the operation, and after the operation.

The theatre nurse students gain special knowledge too, referring to the surgical techniques and assistance of the surgeon during the surgical intervention.

The training is closed with a special examination, containing 3 exams: practical examination written examination and a theoretic, oral examination.

After the training the theatre nurses receive a certificat and they are included in the National Register of Nurses and Allied Health Personnel.

The theatre orderlies are working together with us, they are membre of the operating team.

They are health care workers with basic health care education (600 study hours - 40% theoretical and 60% practical study time). It is anticipated 0,5 year practice in an operating department. The training is also closed with an examination, containing 3 exams: practical examination written examination and a theoretic, oral examination.

After the training the orderlies receive a certificat and they are included in the National Register of Nurses and Allied Health Personnel.

The Directorate General of Basic and Continuing Education of Health Workers supervises the registration. Our theatre nurses and orderlies take part in a continuing education, because the registration is valid for 5 years. During this period, they have to collect 150 credits. 100 credits can be collected by practical experience. They must work at least 3 years in the field of their registration. The 50 credits can be collected by attending courses (30 credits compulsory/required courses and 20 credits optional courses). After the 5 years period a re-registration is necessary.

The Association of Hungarian Theatre Nurses was founded at 07th of October 1992. The founders envisioned a professional voluntary body with the object of advancing theatre nursing in Hungary, by providing education, representation. Their purpose was to unite theatre nurses dedicated to the advancement of professional standards.

The registration of the association took place at 08th of March, 1993.

At the annual congress of our association in November 2012 we have celebrated the 20th anniversary.

Our objectives are: representation of professional interests, enforcement of our social recognition, recognition of the risks against our profession.

Our activity is focused on: organisation of congresses and professional forums, ongoing professional consulting, participation in training and further training, participation in professional examinations, competitions, applications, research.

We have professional contacts with health care authorities and policy makers, other professional organisations, the Directorate General of Basic and Continuing Education of Health Workers, industrial partners and companies.

Since 2005 our national association is a member of the EORNA. We now have the possibility to establish professional networks and relationships with other theatre nurses in Europe.

It is important for us to work together with colleagues, having similar interests and aims, to share knowledge and experiences, to find solutions for common issues.

We collaborate with other member associations to improve the quality of theatre nursing, to realize holistic care in the operating room and to promote perioperative nursing in Europe and all over the world.

NEWS FROM PORTUGAL AND AESOP

Portugal is still in a situation of economic crises and because of this and the necessity to balance the public finances our government will cut 10% in our salary next year.

Our working day is now 8 hours, 40 hours a week and as you all know, more hours of work per nurse, less nurses working, so many goes to UK and other countries to work.

The Portuguese Perioperative Nurses is conscious of this difficult and dubious moments we all go through, on either a professional or personal level, engaged and focused to promote and to spread of quality of Perioperative care.

With this goal the Portuguese Perioperative Nurses Association (AESOP) organized a Fórum of discussion between 12 and 13 of April 2013. The theme was "Think the Future, challenge the crisis".

REPORT FROM ICELAND

We have been spending special effort to get in touch with those of our colleagues who are now retired. Up until now it has been the custom that retired operational nurses have automatically lost contact with our member organization. To change this, we have now sent a letter to every retired operational nurse whom we have been able to locate, and invited them to attend and participate in our activities, our meetings and conferences. The purpose of this is to show them our respect and get a broader perspective on the many issues we are discussing, both practical and ethical.

This year we have also created two different groups on Facebook. One is exclusively for the board, and the other for all members of our organization. This has turned out to be a very effective way to make our members aware of meetings and important issues. It has also turned out to be a new and very good tool for our discussion, exchange of views and communication in general.

In addition to this we held our annual conference on the 12th of October. At the conference we discussed important issues that affects our work in one way or the other. Among these issues were the threat of multi immune bacterias, the quality of air in hospitals and communication among coworkers. On all these issues we were given interesting lectures, that have inspired a further discussion among our members.

NEWS FROM IRELAND

Next perioperative congress is 28 & 29 March 2014 in Limerick.

Perioperative staff are fatigued due to recruitment moratorium with increased workload and working hours increased by 1.5 hours to 39 hours per week. On call allowances for perioperative nurses are under threat by the Health service employers. They plan to halve the money paid for on call with no time back for on call hours. This would push nurses over hours and be in breach of the working time directive.

Government graduate nurse programme has been offered with new honours degree graduates expected to work at 85% pay rate of first year staff nurse scale incorporating a 3 module educational component. This is a 30% pay cut for nurses since 2008.

BELGIUM RECOGNIZES THE SPECIFICITY OF PERIOPERATIVE NURSES

In February 2014, the King of Belgium signed a royal decree recognizing the professional title of specialist nurse in perioperative care, anesthesia, surgical assistance and instrumentation. This long title is summed up in "professional title of specialist nurse in perioperative care." In March 2014, the Minister of Health has issued a ministerial decree defining the conditions for granting and maintaining this title. A fourth full-year of training exists for over 15 years in Belgium and delivers every year several dozens of specialized nurses in perioperative care. Transitional measures for 2 years were defined to allow the theater nurses without this specialization to access this title with conditions of practice and an upgrade from 150 hours of theory. Since September 2014, three schools in the French Community of Belgium are always full. More than 400 nurses were trained or are being trained. Economic crisis forces ... that title will not be sanctioned by an improved salary scale but AFISO continue his political work to achieve it. This certification is the result of work of more than ten years of AFISO and VVOV (Flemish association) and is a guarantor of improving the professionalism and quality of nursing care in the perioperative environment.

THE NETHERLANDS - DUTCH OPERATIE ASSISTANT REWARDED BY A BACHELOR LEVEL

The Ministry of Education, Culture and Science of the Netherlands commissioned the development of the Dutch Qualifications Framework (NLQF) which was constructed in close cooperation with experts and stakeholders in the field of education and training. The National Coordination Point NLQF (NCP) is an independent body which is responsible for the development and implementation of the NLQF.

The Dutch Qualifications Framework (NLQF) is a new way of describing Dutch qualification levels. It is a systematic organisation of all existing qualification levels in The Netherlands, from Level 1 basic education to the Master's degree at level 7 and a Doctorate's degree at level 8. Qualifications are classified in NLQF levels and are given a level indication. The framework consists of an Entry Level followed by 8 levels, Level 1 being the least complex and Level 8 the most complex.

The NLQF aims to facilitate students and labour market mobility by providing an insight into the levels of all qualifications recorded by the National Coordination Point NLQF in the NCP register. The NLQF provides transparency in that it facilitates a comparison of qualification levels nationally and internationally, thus, labour market mobility.

The NCP records Government-regulated qualifications (The qualifications of the Ministries of Education Culture and Sciences; and Economic Affairs; Food and Natural and Living Environment) in the National Coordination Point (NCP) Register of qualifications. All other qualifications are first assessed and level-determined by the NCP and then recorded in the Register.

The Dutch Qualifications Framework offers providers of qualifications which are not regulated by the Government the possibility of having such training programs and qualifications classified at a level of the NLQF. Procedures and criteria for this process are in place.

The NLQF is referenced to the European Qualifications Framework (EQF). EQF aims to enable qualifications from different countries within Europe to be compared by means of a single reference framework to which they are all referenced. Thus, EQF will contribute to greater transparency in the education systems of EU countries, thereby increasing the international mobility of individuals. Currently 36 European countries are contributing to the implementation of the EQF by linking their own national qualifications frameworks to the European Qualifications Framework (EQF).

In December we got the results for the Dutch Operatie assistant and we are in level 6 that means Bachelor. The Dutch LVO is very exciting about this.

NEWS FROM DENMARK

2015 is the years where we, in Denmark, will celebrate 40 years a special nursing association. It will take place at our national conference in the autumn and the president of the Danish Council of Nurses, DSR, will make the opening speech at the conference. This year Congress headline will be "The teamwork of the OR patient with the OR nurse"

In the Danish Organization of OR nurses we have been working with our structure and strategy for the next period. We wanted to see if there are things and ways we will do different in the future.

It is a challenge in Denmark to reach the young nurses and make sign up for unions and the academically associations. That is one of the reasons we have developed an application, APP, for I-phones and android phones. The App went live in 2014 and it gives short information about FS SASMO and the association activities. It has been a big success, it is free to download for everybody, you don't have to be member of FS SASMO.

In Denmark we have only 6 centers that work with Robot surgery. We have started an experience's group, where they can meet and discuss there experience and challenge each other.

Several hospitals have worked with competence cards. We have arranged that a group with members from different Hospitals from most regions in Denmark. They have collected already existing competence cards. The group is now working to making national competence cards to use for all Hospitals and regions.

When the EPND takes place on 15th of February, it is the season of winter holiday in Denmark. That is why we have the EPND day on the 1st of June this year.

This is a few highlights from Denmark in 2015.

Dear International Colleagues,

As President and President Elect of IFPN it is our pleasure to be able to send our sincere greetings and appreciation for the collaboration that has progressed through the past years enable us to be part of EORNA conference 2015.

The International Federation of Perioperative Nurses (IFPN) as we all know is a global organization dedicated to actively promoting perioperative nursing. This vision is what secures the future success of IFPN as a worldwide network, as without IFPN we cannot ensure we are working towards globally improving perioperative patient care. IFPN must focus on this vision by collaborating with our member associations ensuring a culture of transparency and trust. Over the past years we have strengthened our networking both in developing our organization and in the contribution and exchange of knowledge at an international level.
